"Scented dress" with lace and ruffles

Instructions No. 831

This is really fragrant: this pretty little dress brings the smell of the sun into Lavender your wardrobe and does not have to hide.
The different layers of fabric are sewn together by hand, lace and frills are glued on and fixed with a few stitches.

Here's how it works

Transfer the templates for the dress and scented bag with a line-ex pencil twice each onto the striped fabric and cut them out with the pinking scissors. Cut out individual flowers from the lace and iron them onto the rough side of the fleece with permanent iron-on foil. Cut out the reinforced motifs, remove the protective paper and iron on the dress with light pressure

Sew the scented bag by hand, except for a small opening, fill it with Lavender and close the opening. Important: Press the flowers well down so that the bag fills properly

Place the finished scented bag between the front and back and sew all four layers together at the sides up to the straps. Gather the Lace ribbon and the wide pink Organza ribbon , then glue them together around the waist and around the hem and fix them with a few additional stitches. To finish off, stick green Organza ribbon with tape-Ribbon over it, tie a small bow and fix it together with satin scattered roses at neckline, hem and waist

Bend a coat hanger from the aluminium wire using the template, but bend the tight windings at the beginning and end with the round pliers and the rest by hand. Bring the wire ends together and connect them with a hook. Hang the finished dress on the hanger.
