Atmospheric lights with Alcohol Ink

Instructions No. 2187

Difficulty: Beginner

Working time: 2 Hours

Try the Alcohol Ink trend and be amazed by the great bright colour explosions. With our two tutorials, you can create beautiful luminous decorations and a warm atmosphere for your terrace or balcony.

Shape the lantern as follows:

Alcohol Ink is a coloured alcohol-based ink. It dries very quickly, but can be liquefied again by other alcohol inks. The colours flow into each other through the air alone and produce a spectacular colour result. You can increase and control the flow by using a bellows.

Before starting work, cover your craft table and it is best to work with disposable gloves to ensure safe working with the paints.

Ensure there is adequate ventilation while you are working.

Drop your desired colours of Alcohol Inks onto the Nylon Lampion. Use the bellows to spread the paint. Use the Extender to set accents. With the extender, the alcohol inks can be blended and diluted wonderfully. This is a quick and easy way to create soft colour transitions and abstract effects.

Cut the ribbons in different lengths and knot them to the wire hanger.

Colourful fairy lights with Alcohol Ink

Here's how:

Drop a few drops of Alcohol Ink onto the lamp foil and look at the gradient. Now add your desired colours. Spread the colour with the bellows. Add accents with the extender. When you are satisfied with your result, let the lamp foil dry.

After drying, transfer the template 20x onto the lamp foil and cut it out. Use a hole punch to punch the holes marked on the template. Place one bulb in the centre of each hole and place the outer corners of the lamp foil on top of each other and pin together with a foil plug.
