Sewing bibs - step-by-step instructions

Do you have a small child and are looking for a creative activity? Sew your own bib - practical and stylish at the same time! In these instructions, we'll show you how to make a magical bib from a guest towel using simple materials that you may already have at home. It will be big enough to catch even the wildest food fights, while at the same time providing your table with a pretty accessory. So, grab your needle and thread and let's get started!

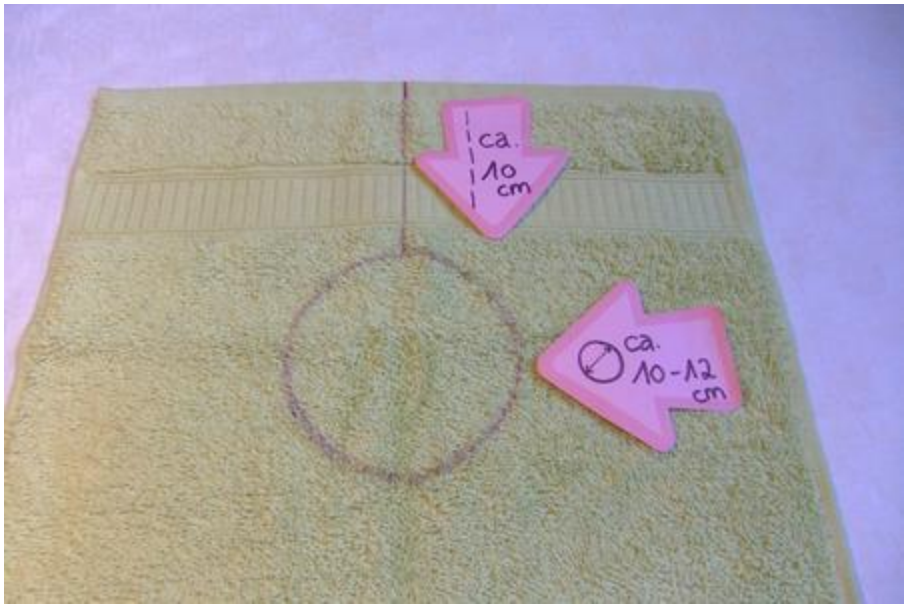

Step 1 - Mark out and cut out

Grab your guest towel. If you want to sew your own bib, you can also cut out your fabric, e.g. terrycloth, measuring approx. 30 x 50 cm, and sew around it.

Start by marking the center of one short side of the towel. From this point, draw a vertical line downwards, about 10 cm long. This can be adjusted to suit your needs. Under this line, draw a circle with a diameter of 10 to 12 cm. Use a stencil or a round object that you have to hand, such as a bowl or a roll of ribbon. Now cut along the line and cut out the circle.

Step 2 - Attach the bias tape

Now it gets a little challenging, but don't worry, it's all doable with good preparation! Unfold the bias tape in the middle and place it around the cut edge of the towel. Make sure that the ribbon is firmly in place to ensure that you cover all layers of fabric when sewing. Secure everything with the "Wonder Clips" or pins at short intervals. Sew the bias tape along the edge using a straight stitch, working slowly and adjusting the fit of the bias tape if necessary. If you notice that not all layers are sewn together, simply re-sew in the affected areas.

Step 3 - Attach the snaps

Your bib now needs a practical fastener. Snaps are an excellent choice as they are easy to attach and are available in many colors and shapes. Determine the optimal Position for the snaps. Attach them with special snap pliers. Alternatively, you can also use a Velcro fastener.

Step 4 - Iron on the appliqués

Your bib is almost finished! To give it a personal touch, you can attach any iron-on-application appliqué. Choose a nice place for it (for example the woven strip of the towel), place a damp cloth over it and iron for approx. 60 seconds on the cotton setting. Your bib will not only be only practical, but also visually appealing.

You can now proudly present your homemade bib, ready for exciting eating adventures!
