Difficulty: Beginner

Working time: 2 Hours

A homemade picture frame gives every picture a personal touch and adapts flexibly to the circumstances - be it the season or a special event. Discover the creative ways in which you can conjure up a unique picture frame from simple materials that perfectly showcases your photos. With these instructions, you can quickly and effortlessly create an eye-catcher that not only only makes the perfect gift, but also beautifies your home.

1. Building the basic frames

There are countless ways to design picture frames. In our example, we show you two variants: a simple one and a more complex one that even offers several possible uses.

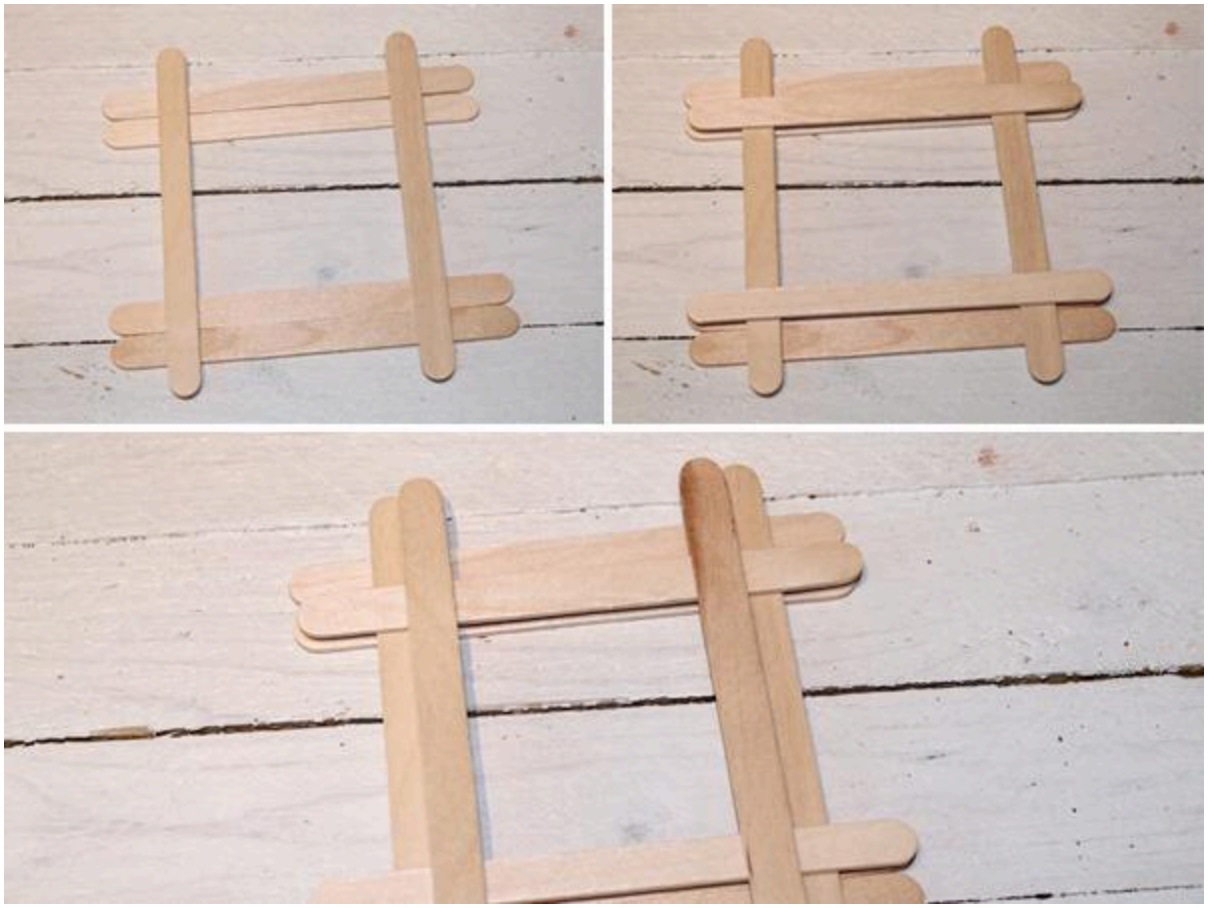

Variant 1:

Place the wooden sticks on top of each other as shown and connect the contact points with the handicraft glue.

Variant 2:

Glue the sticks together as shown. You can decide how big the picture window should be. Tip: Instead of staggered, the sticks can also be glued directly on top of each other.

Once you have finished one frame, you can use it as a template for others to ensure a uniform size. Alternatively, draw a basic framework on Paper, which serves as a template.

2. Decorate the picture frames

As soon as the glue has dried, you can decorate the picture frames with napkin technique . Either the entire surface or only parts of it. Tip: You can do without a primer, as the white napkin parts will be almost invisible after painting. Separate the printed layer from the other two, place the napkin on the wood and paint the napkin varnish with a brush from the center outwards. Carefully tear off the excess and smooth the edges.

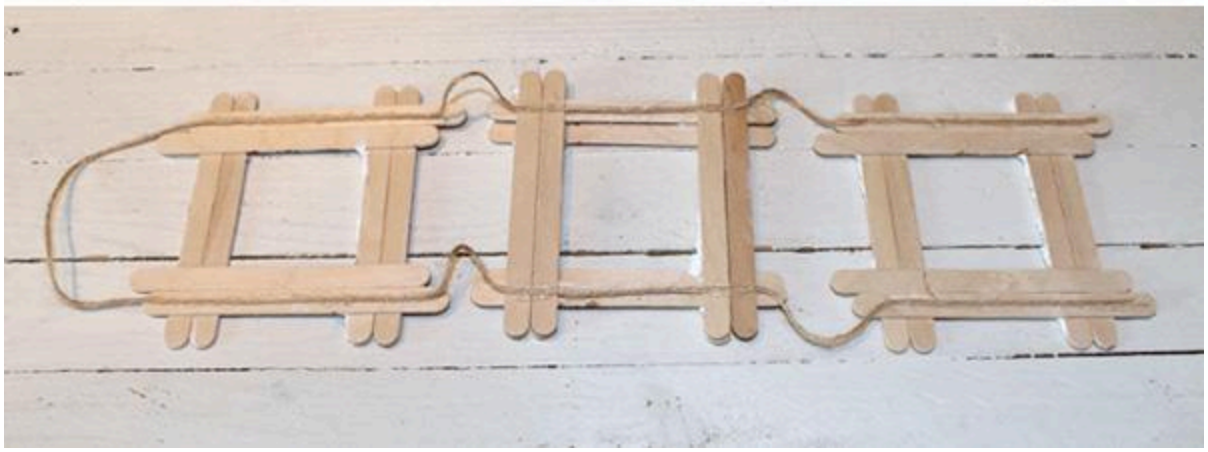

Leave the varnish to dry and apply the decorative snow to the desired areas. A wooden stick is an excellent tool for applying the paint.

3. Attach the ribbon

Now you need a ribbon, to hang up the picture frames. Cut a sufficiently long piece of cord , allowing for gaps between the frames. Start at a lower end and fix it with hot glue. Align the frames so that all distances are the same and glue the cord from bottom to top.

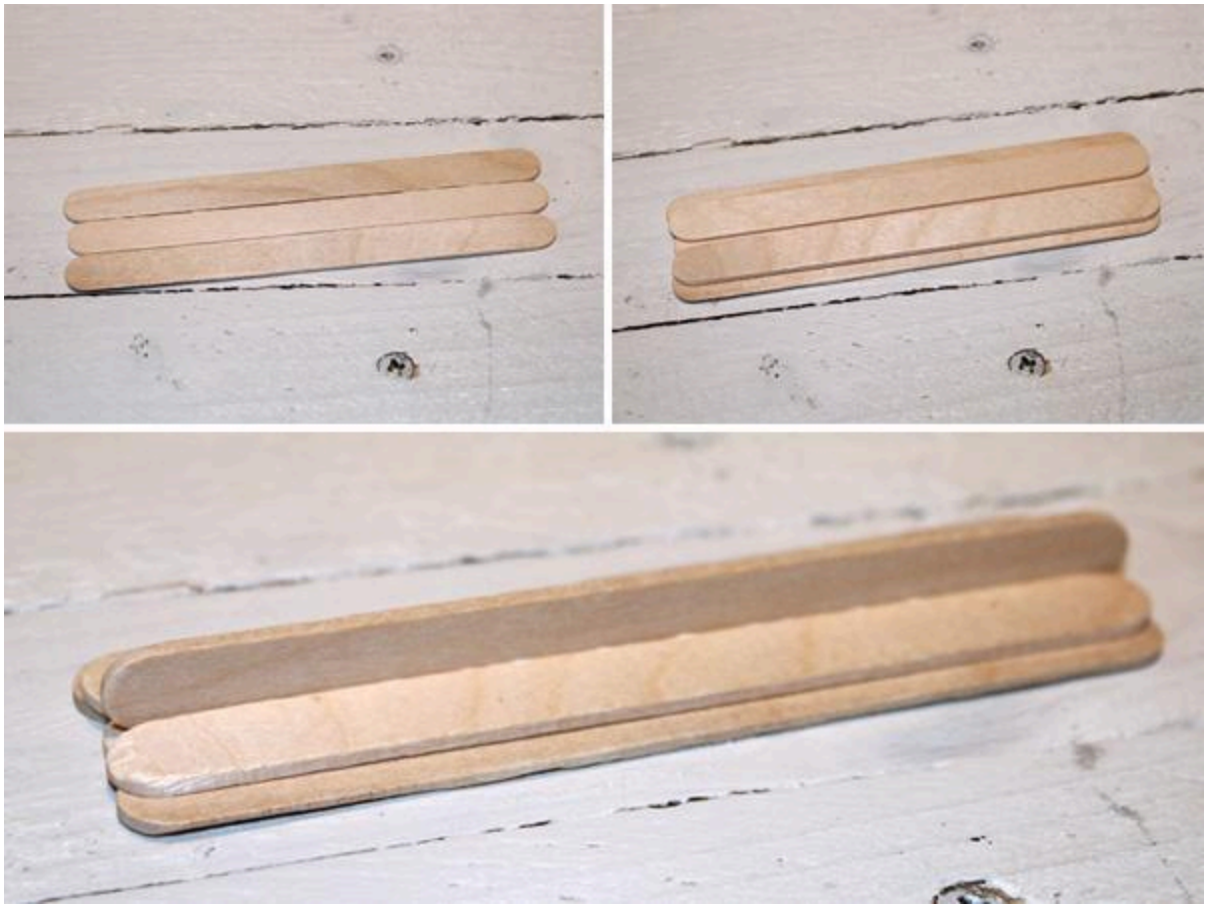

Cut pictures to fit the frames and stick them on from the back. With the second variant, you can also insert the pictures from the side without gluing them.

4. Base for picture frame

For the second variant, you can make a base to stand on if you want to place a picture on a cupboard, for example. Place three wooden sticks next to each other, glue two on top with a little space between them and finally insert another stick upright in the gap.

The picture frame can then simply be attached. That's it!
